

The unexpected death of a child at a Centre is a traumatic event and the impact on Educators, children and families can cause emotional turmoil, which can overwhelm usual coping skills. A policy providing comprehensive procedures is therefore crucial to ensure a coordinated response, and the timely notification required to the regulatory authorities.

As a result of the suddenness of such an event, well-trained and experienced staff can experience strong emotions and traumatic stress responses. The role of our Centre is to help restore a sense of safety for children, Educators, and families as soon as possible following a traumatic event.

Our Centre will ensure that Management and Educators follow the procedures and principles within this policy and that immediate and appropriate action is taken to notify relevant authorities in the event of the death of a child whilst at the Centre. There are a number of legal requirements to adhere to in the tragic event of the death of a child at a Centre as outlined below.

Caring for the Wellbeing of Educators, Children and Families

Our Centre will engage health professionals who may include child and family counsellors and psychologists to support our Educators to be sensitive and mindful of the impact such an event has had on all stakeholders. With professional guidance and support, we will encourage children to express their emotions and feelings and implement strategies to assist and guide children’s process of grieving and re-engage children in learning.

Our Centre will seek advice and support from health professionals to provide appropriate materials to send home to families to assist in understanding the effects of trauma on children and possible changes in behaviour following the unexpected death of a child in our Centre.
